Young Girl

I've seen her in Cosmopolitan Seen her in Seventeen Don't you know she turned my head In all those magazines I hold her in my dreams at night As close as I can get Even though she's unreachable I just can't give up yet

I know she's gonna be the end of me But I love you so, love you so Young girl, young girl

Late at night she drives me mad When I pull down the shade Then reality hits me hard In the light of the day

There's nothing more that I can do Nothin' left to say I tried and tried and wished so hard Still she's so far away

I know she's gonna be the end of me But I need her so can't let go, no, no And I know she's got me blind And I can't see but I love ya so Love ya so Young girl, young girl, don't take me Love's lost and found, girl

You're the one for you're my fantasy Just got to have you young girl Oh you know it's right For you and me tonight Just got to have you young girl Blackfoot
