

Farewell

Blackguard

Time truly slips away, from a minute to a thousand days
We'll never say if we only knew, every moment was something new

This is Farewell and not goodbye, we'll meet again in time
Until then whatever your heart desires is what I hope you'll find
And when you're done, giving the world hell
The round's on us for all the stories you'll tell
Until then, our hearts go with you.

THIS IS FAREWELL AND NOT GOODBYE!!!

Though we're parting and you go alone, what the future holds but no one knows
May the memories keep you warm, our hearts go out with you.

Although I may not understand now
What prompting you to leave
One day I'm sure I'll see This is your life, this is your path!
This is your journey and this is your fight!

And I know you'll give it all you got
This fight is nothing to the wars we've fought
Now raise a glass to the journey and the path you tread
To the peace you seek and the journeys end.
