

No One Deserves To Be Here More Than Me

Blacklisted

It was always the world that I was crushed beneath
Scraping concrete with my teeth till it bleeds
All I ever asked though it all was
Please tell me that nothings wrong
Lost in my sickness
This is not a phase
On the top of a burning house daring the roof to cave
Its funny because coming from me
That
Doesn't
Even
Seem
Insane
No one will ever come for me
No one will ever come for me
No one will ever come for me
No one will ever come for me
Sometimes I leave the house early
Just to ride the subway all day
Sizing up every station
To see which one fits my plan of jumping
In Front
Of
The
Train
No one will ever come for me
No one will ever come for me
No one will ever come for me
No one will ever come for me
In the shower alone with all the lights out
Talking to the tree bugs again as they crawl on my towel
The hot steam ran like a waterfall down the wall
Pressed my tongue to the socket see if
I
Could
Feel
At
All
No one will ever come for me
No one will ever come for me
No one will ever come for me
No one will ever come for me
No one needs to tell me
That there's no use for me around here anymore
I'm humbly watching my life crumble from this bubble I created
Well it's the greats
It was always the greatest
It was always the world that I was crushed beneath
Scraping concrete with my teeth till it bleeds
All I ever asked though it all was
Please tell me that nothings wrong
Please tell me that nothings wrong
Please tell me that nothings wrong
Please tell me that nothings wrong
Please tell me that nothings wrong
