

The Point

Blake Lewis

It's not quite disaster
But were in the dark
Let's now wait till after
It all goes too far

Cause I'm a little blurry
I can't find you lately
When will we appear clearly?

I know that something unseen
Was caught in between
What do we mean anymore
And what have we won
By coming undone
What are we fighting for

Help me cause I don't want to lose
Help me cause I don't want to let you down

This love has taken too much
It's breaking us bit by bit
I don't see the point of this
Help me see the point of this

Love's our survival
Not when it begins
Are we still untitled
Or is this the end

Cause look what we've undone now
You could reach me somehow
You could find I'm still yours now

I know that something unseen
Was caught in between
What do we mean anymore
And what have we won
By coming undone
What are we fighting for

Help me cause I don't want to lose
Help me cause I don't want to let you down

This love has taken too much
It's breaking us bit by bit
I don't see the point of this
(Help Me) Help me see the point of this
