

You Can't Make This Up

Blake Shelton

People would say I'm lying
If I tried to tell 'em how we met tonight
They'd ask how many drinks I'd had
Cause ain't no way it all went down that right
You waiting on somebody and they never did show
You were pissed off, leaving, came back cause you forgot your phone

There I was, yeah I just sat down in the seat you left
You walked up, I said "what are you doing with your beautiful self?"
You rolled your eyes but you laughed and your song came on
I begged you for a dance and we danced
And it was on, eyes locked, clock stopped
One little kiss, no, we never meant to start falling in love
Oh man, you can't make this up

Then I walked you out to your car, it wouldn't start cause you left on your lights
Then you just shook your head and laughed and said "I guess I need a ride"
Then come to find out your house was just a block from mine
Yeah this is one of those movie scene cool kinda things where the stars align Just an hour ago...

There I was, yeah I just sat down in the seat you left
You walked up, I said "what are you doing with your beautiful self?"
You rolled your eyes but you laughed and your song came on
I begged you for a dance and we danced
And it was on, eyes locked, clock stopped
One little kiss, no, we never meant to start falling in love
Oh man, you can't make this up

You can't make up a night like this
You can't make up a story like that
It's one of those
How in the world did it happen
Kind of things
I'd never believe it
If I didn't see it, girl

There I was, yeah I just sat down in the seat you left
You walked up, I said "what are you doing with your beautiful self?"
You rolled your eyes but you laughed and your song came on
I begged you for a dance and we danced
And it was on, eyes locked, clock stopped
One little kiss, no, we never meant to start falling in love
Oh man, you can't make this up

You can't make up a night like this
You can't make up a story like that
Oh no
