

The Rainbow Fades to Black

Blaze Bayley

Gather the light blinded by their lies you'll see again it's never the end time to begin find the power that is deep within your heart of steel

Do you believe they will share with you a pot of gold it's just a control they cannot rule if you do not hunger for those things that you don't need

They will tell us what we need to make us hunger for their lies So we think we have to eat their shit and live without our pride The words and pictures that define me as a man are in my mind no one but me can give away the freedom that I've earned it's mine

Without pain
There can be no strength no way to grow No way to own your own soul Then the rainbow fades to black and it's never coming back
