Gone now
Thinking what's gone now
Like a part of me walked out
And I know I've been a stranger lately
I walk to the pawn shop
Now I'm at the pawn shop
Got your ring and a wristwatch
Because I know I've been a stranger lately

I've been walking circles
Lost on Sunday morning
Tryna find my way back home
'Cause I know I've been a stranger lately
I've been a stranger lately
I know I've been a stranger lately
Everybody passing
Can't make out their faces
I'm tryna find a way back home
'Cause I know I've been a stranger lately
I've been as tranger lately
I know I've been a stranger lately

We're gonna fight tonight
We're gonna fight tonight
But you can be a stranger sometimes
You know it's true
I'm at the carwash
Now I'm at the carwash
Gonna get cleaned off
'Cause I been so wasted lately

Goodbye to the friends I had
Goodbye to the upstairs neighbor
Goodbye to the dream downstairs and
Anybody who lent me a favor
Goodbye to the way we talk
Goodbye to the things we bought
You should know that
I loved you all
