

Legends Die

Bleed The Dream

There you go throwing stones
This is how you want to end up
Take your life, precious lie
You're not even worth defending
I know your out there laughing
Its time to disappear
And I know your hearts are empty
And the end is drawing near

It's just what you wanted
To be Dead and dishonest
So just let it take you
Cause it's sad what it's come to

Take it in, breathe it in
Even though your lungs can't stand it
Push it out breath it out
You know they're waiting open handed
And I could never tell you the things you want to hear What your about to go through will force you through your fear

And it's just what you wanted
To be dead and dishonest
So just let it take you
Cause it's sad what it's come to

And it's just what you wanted
To be dead and dishonest
So just let it take you
Cause it's sad what it's come to
