

Shattered Memories

Bleed The Dream

So how long
Do you really think I'd let you keep me here
Before I'd run away
And how long
Would you sit around and watch me waste my tears
Before you walk away
I love your average face

And there's nothing left but shattered memories
Of what we left behind (left behind)
And the greatest will forever follow me
Forever left behind, left behind

There's no time
To be ridiculous and piss into the wind
Unless you wanted to
There's no words
That could ever make the sorrows disappear
Because I know it's true
And I love your average face

And the greatest will forever follow me

Forever (and ever)... forever

And the greatest will forever follow me
