Omen Of Fate

Blessed Death

No Crashing down to head on death My mind is rapped in fear Prepared to hold my one last breath King's voice is all I hear Evil tried to hell us it was coming It was near

Our minds controlled by terror Raging fury mass of fear Metal ripping, necks are thrashing Skin is broken, bones just snap Blood is dripping, skulls are broken Cannot feel the pain just yet Taste the blood upon my tongue How sweet it tastes to live If not for metal flowing through our veins We would not live King saved us from death

Deep inside the moment just before The crashing blow Eyes are locked on headlights Death is calling won't let go

Omen of fate Omen of fate

Hail the omen of fate Take heed the omen of fate
