What's Left of Me

Blessthefall

Don't let your eyes ever go shut on me. I won't let your voice be silenced, silenced

Blood is dripping from my hands Tell me, Is this what you wanted? I'm the one that walked away For me, it's all that I needed With nowhere to turn I'll find truth

Only with you What's left of me is yours to keep What's left of me is yours Only with you What's left of me is yours to keep What's left of me is yours

One last chance for salvation, salvation See this empty hole inside Don't let It keep growing deeper I'm the one who runs away It's true I'm lost on the outside

With nowhere to turn I'll find truth

Only with you What's left of me is yours to keep What's left of me is yours Only with you What's left of me is yours to keep What's left of me is yours Breathe you in and it's all over now When my arms open Breathe you in and it's all over now When my arms open Breathe you in I'll breathe you in Breathe you in I'll breathe you in Breathe you in and its all over now When my arms open, When my arms open Breathe you in and its all over now When my arms open, When my arms open

Oh, I'm drowning Oh, I'm drowning Oh, I'm drowning Forgive me, forgive me, forgive me.
