

Ashes of Eternity

Blind Guardian

The hell has betrayed me
And so did the fox
Just once defined me
That we are in the space where death might be
No one knows
It could define me

With me there's no tomorrow
Now that proves we wait for the man to come back
It might be cruel for you
But how can you try and guarantee?
The past is real
Get on your way
Get back to the place
Scratch deeper and deeper
On you will be on your own

The saints they will save you
And your soul
Save us
The night is so large
We found the ashes of eternity
And you wanna try to cover

The loss seems over
And it shall be mine

Halls are full of complaint
Before we get the closest
We'll be emptier
Now we try , come and see
The things are not what they seem
So where we belong?
He will turn around

The saints they will save you
And your soul

(Instrumental)

Now go and get your holy grail
And don't forget that once you cross the border
Now let the saints, the saints come marchin' in Let the saints, the saints come marchin' in
Now we arrange it
No change to be trade

I won't lie about bright eyes
The light shines
My last try
Into it's all forever

The saints will be given ... and more
But for now you will be on your own
The laws wants to lured you
The saints they will save you
They will treat your soul

Prepare for your grail
Cause there's no place to go
The saints will bring it back
Let no spirits fly
