Valkyries

Blind Guardian

To the gods of the north, I pray And raise my cup for the fallen ones Then I cry In Valhalla they'll sing

Rain

Red blood keeps pouring down Come Valkyries, join me on that final ride

Here I lie bleeding Odin, I await thee

The battle rages on

New lines they're weaving The future, the past and the present They're one They will reveal their mask To show me a way to survive This bitter war

Soon it will be over He will be the one We'll weave in

And terror will now rule these lands

When the battle is lost And the slain ones are chosen Valkyries will guide us home When the battle is lost And the slain ones are chosen Valkyries will guide us home

Destiny A spinning wheel

The path of glory Round and round come join us On your final ride to Asgard Let's move on fast allfather waits So let's heed the final call

For now We leave this world behind It's over

All glory to the brave Still blood will rain Through storm and fire Let war winds reign It's the feast for the crows

Follow the light Just follow the light Or fade away Soon it will be over He will be the one We'll weave in and terror will now rule these lands

When the battle is lost And the slain ones are chosen Valkyries will guide us home When the battle is lost And the slain ones are chosen Valkyries will guide us home

We'll keep on weaving We're crushing through lines With our battering swords We're marching on Assign the brave To survive This bitter war

Soon it will be over He will be the one We'll weave in

And terror will now rule these lands

When the battle is lost And the slain ones are chosen Valkyries will guide us home When the battle is lost And the slain ones are chosen Valkyries will guide us home We'll heed the final call A call to arms The valkyries will guide us home

The finally I hear them say Carry on For Valhalla awaits you
