

I Buried a Bone

Blind Pilot

I buried a bone
and darling you don't know him darling you don't know him darling you don't know

and just where you are might be the right place it might be that sweet space but you don't know

now look me in the head I've got nothing on my mind I've been waiting for you all this time and I'd seen a path turn to an old road but the secret's too slow and we're too fast

look me in the mouth I've got nothing in my smile
I've been waiting for you you're just my style

look me in the gut
I've got fear for my own name I'd dig it up for you if you'd do the same

I buried a bone
