

Black Rain

Blink-182

Tragedy (Tragedy)
Erased my memory (Erased my memory)
And now all I see is this black rain
Oh, tragedy
You took my everything (You took my everything)
Now all I feel, all I feel is pain

Oh-oh, how can I go on knowing that I lost you?
Where did I go wrong?
Where did you run off to?
Lost down here broken and alone

I went in search of some answers
But all I found were monsters
They're under my bed
They're haunting this tie that's been severed
This tie that's been severed

Now I follow your footsteps
Through the ashes you once crept
I feel so hollow now I'm trapped
On this island, this island of regret

Tragedy (Tragedy)
Erased my memory (Erased my memory)
And now all I see is this black rain
Oh, tragedy
You took my everything (You took my everything)
Now all I feel, all I feel is pain

Oh-oh, how can I go on knowing that I lost you?
Where did I go wrong?
Where did you run off to?
Lost down here broken and alone

They left a note on the front door
With a time and a place as the tears poured from my eyes
Straight to the floor
There was no going back once we knew what they came for

And all I have here is heartache
And bones and mirrors for me to break
Only so much bad luck a person can take
We quiver and quake
We shiver and shake

Tragedy
Erased my memory (Erased my memory)
And now all I see is this black rain
Oh, tragedy
