

Orion

Blitz Kids

Snow is falling thick and fast now,
Forming castles on the tips of our nose,
And as we hold on to each other's heat,
The sky cries in the cold.

We lay and wait for the stars to show their face,
And you're pretending that you know them all by name.
We both got nothing to give,
Except every inch of our fragile frames.

Let me catch your fever girl, tell me that you feel it girl,
If you don't then get up and just go home on the first flight.

Call me Orion, and we can sleep together under the stars.
Call me the hunter of all hearts.
Why are we waiting, cause I could fix everything if we could be broken together.
Why are we waiting, after all is said and done we'll still be broken forever.

I think I'm falling thick and fast now,
You rest your finger in the dip of my nose,
And if you can hold me back from all retreat,
Then we will never grow old.

We lay and wait for the stars to show their face,
And you're pretending that you know them all by name.
We both got nothing to give,
Except every inch of our fragile frames.

I know it's hard to deal with me when I call in the cavalry,
And I know you won't push when I don't pull, so I'll grip tight.

Call me Orion, and we can sleep together under the stars.
Call me the hunter of all hearts.
Why are we waiting, cause I could fix everything if we could be broken together.
Why are we waiting, after all is said and done we'll still be broken forever.

I could fix everything if we could be broken together.
Cause after all is said and done, we'll still be broken forever.

Call me Orion, and we can sleep together under the stars.
Call me the hunter of all hearts.
Why are we waiting, cause I could fix everything if we could be broken together.
Why are we waiting, after all is said and done we'll still be broken forever.

Cause I could fix everything if we could be broken together.
Cause after all is said and done, we'll still be broken forever.

I could fix everything.
