

Dark Dreams

Blood On The Dance Floor

Have you ever dreamed that you were naked in front of a crowd and you felt exposed
Or you had a dream that you were going down a hill
And you were pumping the brake and you couldn't stop and you were out of control
Or another dream is that you are being chased by a malevolent pursuer
And they're chasing you along the mountain top and you can't get away
What do these dreams mean are they meant to torment you or are they meant to help you
My view is that these dreams are meant to help you
In terms of dealing with the terror in yourselves so you can become clear
It's one thing to say I had a nightmare and I was upset by it and thank God it was only a dream
It's another thing to say okay I had this nightmare
And I've been chased by this dark man in a dark mask to be able to turn around and say who is this man
To look back in your life and say who is this man
Is this my father, is this my uncle, is this a teacher, who is this?
So that you can stop running from them
That's the purpose of dreams in order to use them as intuitive prompts
So that you're not running away from yourself all the time and living a life that's driven by fear

All these dark dreams gotta mean something
All alone late at night, when the nightmares come alive
I start to lose all control, tearing at the sheets to save my soul
I'm falling down to the ground, don't understand what is around
I'm losing my f*cking mind, insecurities are eating me alive

Dark dreams all night
Dancing moonlight
Beauty star bright save me tonight

Wake up, wake me up
Wake up, wake me up

All these dark dreams gotta mean something
All these dark dreams gotta mean something

All alone I dream again, can't escape the monsters in my head
They are always right behind me, chasing me down a dead end street
Let's sail away, far away, to the skies, stars and beyond
Now lay me down to sleep, to the sun and infinity

All of these dark dreams, they keep haunting me
I don't know what to do, they sing impending doom

Wake up, wake me up
Wake up, wake me up

All these dark dreams gotta mean something
All these dark dreams gotta mean something
All these dark dreams gotta mean something
(I don't really know, maybe it's nothing)
All these dark dreams gotta mean something
(I don't really know, maybe it's nothing)

All of these dark dreams, they keep haunting me
I don't know what to do, they sing impending doom

Wake up, wake me up
Wake up, wake me up

Sail away, yes far away, to the sun yes here we come
Now I lay me down to sleep, to the stars and infinity...
