

Time Machine

Blood On The Dance Floor

Remembering when we were so perfect
And now it's all broken; words left unspoken
Remembering when we laughed for hours
And now it's all silence, decayed like a flower

I am a ship lost at sea
Forever is what you mean to me

If I could build a time machine
I'd take it back to you
I'd rewind the time when you were mine
And relive those moments with you

I'd relive those moments with you
I'd relive those moments with you

All the time I feel guilty
For leaving you behind; I feel so empty
And now you're due time, I just stay high
And try to forget that you're no longer mine

I am a ship lost at sea
Forever is what you mean to me

If I could build a time machine
I know what I would do
I'd take it back to the past
And I would make us last

If I could build a time machine
I'd take it back to you
I'd rewind the time when you were mine
And relive those moments with you

I'd relive those moments with you
And live in this moment with you

Time's too slow for those who wait
Time's too fast if you hesitate
Time's too short for regrets
Funny how they say it helps you forget

If I could build a time machine
I'd take it back to you

If I could build a time machine
I know what I would do
I'd take it back to the past
And I would make us last

If I could build a time machine
I'd take it back to you
I'd rewind the time when you were mine
And relive those moments with you

I'd relive those moments with you
And live in this moment with you
