Squash Squash

Blood Orange

You chose to fade away with him I chose to try and let you in You chose to fade away with him I chose to try and let you in

Making life just feel fine Dreaming of a life of staying in You chose to fade away with him I chose to try and let you in You chose to fade away with him I chose to try and let you in

Begging, begging for your everything But everything is something Something that is true Begging, begging for your everything But everything is something Something that is true, true

You chose to fade away with him I chose to try and let you in You chose to fade away with him I chose to try and let you in

Silence on my estate