Iron Throne

Bloodbound

When the night of the watch has fallen I shall send your souls to heaven When the light of the stars are calling I'm the king of the iron throne

In the dark of the night In the wake of the moon I arise Demon bred, straight from hell An assassin bound under a spell

I am legion I'm the maker Fire blasting death machine I'm the king of demolition Master of the mean

When the night of the watch has fallen I shall send your souls to heaven When the light of the stars are calling I'm the king of the iron throne

In the storm of the fight At the break of the dawn you demise Left undead on your back All the sacred is under attack

I am legion I'm the maker Fire blasting death machine I'm the king of demolition Master of the mean

When the night of the watch has fallen I shall send your souls to heaven When the light of the stars are calling I'm the king of the iron throne

I am legion I'm the maker Fire blasting death machine I'm the king of demolition Master of the mean

When the night of the watch has fallen I shall send your souls to heaven When the light of the stars are calling I'm the king of the iron When the night of the watch has fallen I shall send your souls to heaven When the light of the stars are calling I'm the king of the iron throne