Bloodflowerz

I fall, stand up, no I don't never give up but fear, cold tears, creep like poison to my heart I run, try to reach the bright sun I call your name in the falling rain

I hit the ground, gravity keeps me down a real bad trip when all I try to keep runs through my hands like dusty sand till I understand I'll ride this turning circle Show me ways in the haze, show me the place where the sun always shines

Go inside, go inside Cold rain is falling down again I'm sailing on dark flows

I still believe, but today I need relief
I await the light, a new day follows after every night so go inside
I feel the flood,
my raging blood can feel you Sad cold fear is creeping near but I know I have to go... inside

Go inside, go inside
Cold rain is falling down again
I'm sailing on dark flows Cold rain is falling down on me
I'm sailing dark flows
Cold rain is falling down again
I'm sailing dark flows

and the wind blows colder...
