

The source

Bloody Hammers

Blood on the walls and a furious fire
It's been a competitive love and desire
I'm sitting still but I'm just getting colder
Ice in my veins and a lump in my throat

I've been invited by the light of the moon

Time and time I gave in and all you want is more that's not what I came here for

But this time I didn't give in and I feel no remorse now that i've cut off the source

Ecstasy comes like a worm through the brain
Slightly surcums to the fist and the pain
Not breaking silence but i destroyed the order
Sweat pores and blood fills the void of the rain

I feel like i've left you silent
I've already lived and died once for you
