

5 A.M. (A Love Song)

Blue Rodeo

With every breath we grow further apart
Who said I said
And as we sort out the who said you said
Sometimes I wish we didn't know how to talk
5 am these things will pass
I only wish I came a little better prepared
Tomorrow won't be our last

I never meant to change your world
Funny how I'm always here with you
Or change your point of view
I only want to hold you when I feel a little blue
I hope you know I'll always be there for you
I know by now I should be sound asleep

I'll say that you're right
If you just say that I'm right
But my mind won't let me it feels like it's going to explode
Let's hit the hay and call this case closed
Tomorrow's a brand new day

5 AM things get so strange
Or change your point of view
Funny how I'm always here with you
I never meant to change your world
I hope you know I'll always be there for you
I only want to hold you when I feel a little blue
