

And When You Wake Up

Blue Rodeo

So many roads you must go down
All dreary and dark
Nothing but rain clouds in your heart
Just when you're thinking
You can't make one more stand
I'll be there to steady your hand

And you lay down now
No need to worry your head
Lay down now
It's time for resting instead

Then when you wake up
Then when you wake up, wake up you'll find
Everything's waiting ahead

People keep talking
And they fill you with fear
Then come the nighttime they disappear
Love is a struggle
It's a half finished song
It's a beautiful sunrise coming on

And you lay down now
No need to worry your head
Lay down now
It's time for resting instead

And when you wake up
Then when you wake up, wake up you'll find
Everything's waiting ahead

Maybe sometimes you can fool everybody
Maybe you fool yourself too
The winds that are howling right over your head
They're bringing the changes
The changes to you

And you lay down now
No need to worry your head
Lay down now
It's time for resting instead

Then when you wake up, wake up you'll find
And when you wake up, wake up you'll find
And when you wake up, wake up you'll find
Everything's waiting ahead
