

Everybody Cries

Blue Rodeo

Close your eyes, my dear
There's no need to wake We all get tired from the chances we take Wish i could take away the tears from your eyes
It's just that sometimes everybody cries

Outside the walls around us must be strong when you feel your walking on Just remember i'll be there to greet you when you rise
Its okay, sometimes everybody cries

I've seen you watching people walking through this world seeing what they do to try and make it through each day Don't be alarmed, there's something out there waiting just for you
someday

I've seen you watching people walking through this world
seeing what what they do to try and make it through each day Don't be alarmed, there's something out there waiting just for
you

Let the stars fall down over your head Don't you worry about the things you've seen Just you drift away into the world behind your eyes
It's okay, sometimes everybody cries
sometimes everybody cries
