

Wondering

Blue Rodeo

Everywhere you go
And everyone you meet
The way you light your cigarette
The way you spill your drink
Every kiss you steal
And every heart you break
Every smile you leave
On a strangers face

And you wish you could remember
Your dreams when you wake
'Cause now everything
Feels like a big mistake

And you're wondering
Why can't this world be more
More like the one you were meant for
And you're wondering
Why can't this love be more
More like the love you were meant for

Sometimes it tears you apart
When you have to leave
The one love you want
It makes you feel like
It's all a lie
You can't believe he said
Goodbye

And you wish you could remember
Your dreams when you wake
'Cause now everything

And you're wondering
Why can't this world be more
More like the one you were meant for
And you're wondering
Why can't this love be more
More like the love you were meant for
