

No Woman No Cry

Blues Traveler

No women, no cry
No women, no cry
No women, no cry
No women, no cry
Said, "I remember when a we used to sit in a government
yard in Trenchtown
Observing the hypocrites as they would mingle with the good people we meet"
Good friends we have, oh, good friends we've lost along the way
In this great future, you can't forget your past
"So dry your tears", I say
No women, no cry
No women, no cry

No little darlin', please don't she'd no tears (Shed no tears)
No women, no cry

Said, "I remember when a we used to sit in a government
yard in Trenchtown
And Georgie would make the fire light as logwood burnin' through the nights"
And then we would cook cornmeal porridge of which I'll share with you
Said, "Oh my feet is my only carriage so I've got to push on through"
And while I'm gone, saying
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
No women, no cry
No women, no women, no women, no women
No women, no cry

Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right (Every little thing)
Everything's gonna be all right (Every little thing)
Everything's gonna be all right (Everything's gonna be all right!) (Every little thing) Everything's gonna be all right (Everything's gonna be
all right!) (Every little thing)

all right!) (Every little thing)
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's all right
Everything's all right
Everything's all right
Everything's all right
Everything's all right
Everything's all right
Everything's gonna be all right (Everything's all right!)
Everything's gonna be all right (Everything's all
right!)
Meet me, in the middle of the day and we'd hear you say, "Everything is ok" Meet me in the middle of the night (Everything's all
right)
And we'd hear you say (Everything's), "Everything is gonna be alright" (All right)
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
Everything's gonna be all right
No women, no cry
No women, no cry

Ziggy Marley, we'll see you this summer
