Orange In The Sun

Blues Traveler

Never you mind at the storm, honey Never you mind the lightning Dawn gonna make the day warm, honey Sun gonna make the day bring

Hold you till it comes Just water falling down The orange in the sun Never makes a sound

Never you mind at the noise, honey The man and the moon and the stars Are putting away all their toys, honey The lightning back in their jars

Hold you till they're done Just water falling down The orange in the sun Never makes a sound As it shines all around

Rise and awake in the morning, honey Wash away sleep from your eye Keep any dreams that you Might have made, baby Little one please don't you cry

Hold you till the dawn Just water falling down The orange in the sun Never makes a sound As it shines all around

Take away all of the darkness, honey Remove any nightmares power Break any curse with me, won't you honey? By the light of the morning hour

Hold you till the dawn Just water falling down The orange in the sun Never makes a sound

Every night has to end, honey
Every storm has to pass
You don't have to pretend, honey
That a tear in the rain has to last

Hold you till the dawn Water falling down The orange in the sun Never makes a sound
