

In the Distance

Blutengel

I'm walking on an endless road
Everything's so far away
I left my memories behind

I hold myself here on this planet
Everything's so dark
So cold and hopeless to me

All the people I have seen
Suffer from the same disease
They just care for themselves

I realise and I regret
Because I can't help myself
Can anybody rescue me?

"I will come and save your soul
Take my hand, I will care
I will hold you in my arms
No need to cry, I will be there"

I can see you in the distance
And I hope you rescue me
All my life I was just waiting
For an Angel come to me
Give me hope and give me strength
For this life I have to live
Never let me down again
Hold my hand eternally
