

Leave the World

Blutengel

You lay on your bed this night your eyes stir on the walls there's no one beside you anymore and you feel alone

A candle burns in your room rains keeps falling on your past no hope for a better life and you feel paralyzed

A black tear falls from your eyes you hold the razor blade in your hand one cut to end it all you want to die tonight

On bloody wings you can fly no one can hold you back anymore you're on your way to eternal silence no one can hurt you there

You want to escape from this life you want to hide yourself tonight from the darkness of your dreams you just want to leave the world
