Rain is falling down the streets are cold and empty I'm on my way to another nightmare
I'm searching for salvation
I don't know where to hide

I want you to be my saviour you can break this cage of ice you're the only one to save me I can see it in your eyes I want you to be my saviour take me to eternity you're an angel without wings only you can set me free

I see all these empty faces no feelings in their eyes no one cares about the pain I'm helpless like a child so I try to close my eyes and I lay myself to sleep I wish that I could sleep forever touched by the hand of death

I want you to save me save me from this pain please my little angel don't let me die again

I want you to save me save me from this pain please do not forsake me don't let me die again
