

Senseless Life

Blutengel

Your heart is full of emotion
You can get your life through
All your sins come back to your mind
And you feel oppressed violence

You can't find no way out
Of this misery inside
And you realise this night
You can't go back

You're lying in your bed alone
And you think of what you have done
But you're still running from your past
While you hold the light in your hand

The black God speaks in your flesh
Blood runs out of your heart
And you realise this night
You will never ever come back

Your life seems senseless, all your dreams are gone
So you are thinking of giving up
You want to leave this poisoned world
'Cos you can't stand this endless pain
