

Still Standing

Blutengel

I watch you while you're sleeping
Every night I'm here with you
I try to protect you
From the ghosts inside your dreams

I try not to break the silence
I am just a watcher
Every night you're growing older
And eternity awakes

And the sun will rise again
I'm still standing here with you
We watch the years passing by
And our souls will fade to grey
And the sun will rise again
I'm still standing here with you
We watch the years passing by
And our souls will fade to grey

I watch you while you're sleeping
Every night I'm here with you
I try to protect you
From the ghosts inside your dreams

I try not to break the silence
I am just a watcher
Every night you're growing older
And eternity awakes

And the sun will rise again
I'm still standing here with you
We watch the years passing by
And our souls will fade to grey
And the sun will rise again
I'm still standing here with you
We watch the years passing by
And our souls will fade to grey
