

Where Will You Be?

Blutengel

What happen to our little world?
It crumbles to dust.
Where is the love that we felt before?
There is a coldness in my heart.

Only bad words are left to say.
It feels like needles on my skin.
And there is no reason for you to stay,
you say?

Where will you be when I still need you?
Where will you sleep tonight?
Will you remember me at all
Or will you repress your emotions?

Where will you be when I still need you?
Where will you sleep tonight?
Will you remember me at all
Or will you repress your emotions?

What happen to our little world?
It crumbles to dust.
Where is the love that we felt before?
There is a coldness in my heart.

It feels like needles on my skin.
It crumbles to dust.

Where will you be when I still need you?
Where will you sleep tonight?
Will you remember me at all
Or will you repress your emotions?

Where will you be when I still need you?
Where will you sleep tonight?
Will you remember me at all
Or will you repress your emotions?

Where will you be?
Where will you be?
Where will you sleep?
Where will you sleep tonight?

Where will you be when I still need you?
Where will you sleep tonight?
Will you remember me at all
Or will you repress your emotions?

Where will you be?
Where will you be?
Where will you sleep?
Where will you sleep tonight?
