When Love Is Gone

Bobby Bare

Spring could come, you'd never show it Love could come, you'd never know it Life has drawn so many tears from your eyes You've been used then lost the user You've been branded as a loser Where did all the sincere people go?

When love is gone it will not return The river's full of your tears the bridges have been burned Someone took your four leaf clover all your lucky days are over That's the way you feel when love is gone.

Nights're long dawn is heartless quiet heartaches in the darkne ss How could scars so deep still plainly show All the old dreams so delicious all the news came so suspicious Where did all the simple pleasures go.

When love is gone it will not return The river's full of your tears the bridges have been burned Someone took your four leaf clover all your lucky days are over That's the way you feel when love is gone...
