

Feline

Bobby McFerrin

I got news today you had run away how long, how long this time? cried the young feline you got some weird desire but how long, how long will this go on?
I'll be waiting for you to come back home

Remember years ago you had told me so your restlessness, helplessness would hinder us in time took you by the hand and said I'd try to understand but how long, how long will this go on?

Lying here alone waiting by the telephone hope you are alright and takin' care your own hope nobody steals ya, want ya home where I can feel ya how long will this go on?
I'll be waiting for you to come back home how long, how long will this go on?

I'll be waiting for you to come back home
