

Heaven's Design

Bobby McFerrin

Just got home to your letter it comes as no surprise and I know that I could have done better and I realize that something more you wanted from me but I wouldn't comply
and I know that I could have done better I was so occupied

in my world
with my things
you were feeling so alone now I ready to make a change
cause I know that you're my own and I'm no good on my own

there is no one better than you for me my heart must have been blind and I know that I will wait for you you're my heaven's design

nothing sacred so it said now I know that's a lie if only I'd paid close attention to the tears in your eyes I only hope it's not too late to try and make things right
if only I'd paid close attention I wouldn't be lonely tonight

in my world
with my things
you were feeling so alone
now I'm ready
to make a change
cause I know that you're my own
and I'm no good on my own

there is no one better than you for me
my heart must have been blind
and I know that I will wait for you
you're my heaven's design