

Celestial Sanctuary

Bolt Thrower

As the sky turns black
And the earth sleeps in peace
Roaming the clouds
In search of a sacred place

Spirits soar higher, to a land where they are king
Mortals shells left with you, within shadows they dwell

Take me far away-deep within the dream
There I can be free from life's misery

Blood rushes through my veins
I can feel exhilaration
The freedom of my mind can take me far beyond

Take me far away - deep within the dream
There clearly seen life's unreality,
Sanctuary
Take me far away - deep within the dream
There I can be free from life's misery

Each night I await the call of my silent quest
To run through the wind alive in the darkness

Take me far away-deep within the dream
There clearly seen life's unreality
As the dawn gets closer-to my body I shall return
To live amongst you all, for nightfall I yearn
