Whatever happened
To saving these words the last time
At least for a while
And he looks so worried
But you hate how he looks at life
With such a closed mind

Too much, too fast
We should be heading back
No questions asked
It's always sailing past

Have learned your lesson
Have you learnt to always think things through
Cause you keep on changing
What you think is right
What is true but only when it suits you

Too much, too fast
We should be heading back
No questions asked
It's always sailing past

His height won't last
His height won't last

Too much, too fast
We should be heading back
No questions asked
It's always sailing past

Too much, too fast
We should be heading back
No questions asked
It's always sailing past
