

Live Before You Die

Bon Jovi

1. A little boy of nine years old, the whole world in his hands
Trying to toss that ball across the yard, a game of catch with my old man
He'd always say i'm sorry every time he had to leave
And I was much to young to understand what he would say to me

R: When you're young you always think the sun is gonna shine
There come a day you'll have to say hello to goodbye
Sit down son come take my hand, look me in the eye
Take these words promise me your gonna live before you die

2. I was barely seventeen, the summer of seventy nine
Already I was feeling like I was running out of time
I had this girl we fell in love, or should I say that she had me
Then one fateful night changed our lives and made a memory

R: When youre young you always think the sun is gonna shine
There will come a day you'll have to say hello to goodbye
She laid me down she took my hand and looked me in the eye
And just before she kissed me she said you're gonna live before die

*: You learn to love to live
You fight and you forgive
You learn whats wrong and right
You gotta live before you dieee

Ive made mistakes I've caught my breaks, but i've got no regrets
Theres some things I don't remember but one thing I dont forget

R: When you're young you always think the sun is gonna shine
There will come a day you'll have to say hello to goodbye
Shout it out let someone somewhere know that your alive
Take these words wear them well, you gotta live before you die

*: You learn to love to live
You fight and you forgive
You face the darkest night
Just live before you die
