

Highway To Your Dreams

Bonfire

Have you ever seen your dreams The way our children do The world will change And fantasy will come true

You just need to close your eyes Take a roadmap to the moon And vanish in the freedom of your mind

Don't look back Like so many times before Don't look back Pack your dreams and lock The door

Ride c'mon ride 'Till you're a thousand miles away Down the highway of your dreams Don't loose your faith You will find a place to stay Down the highway of your dreams

Make it happen while you can Fight the reason in your brain Don't loose yourself in the lies of yesterday

All the visions on your mind Are the lifeline to your heart 'Cause the hangman's waiting At the gate of reality

Up and away There ain't no way to disguise Up and away Save your dreams to save your life

Don't give up Just spread your wings and fly Keep hangin' on 'Cause it's something worth dying for
