

I Don't Want You

Bonfire

Since you went away It was only yesterday I couldn't sleep all night But I'm sure that I was right Your smell is everywhere I thought I didn't care And all the dreams that we shared are dying

I can't forget the look You had in your eyes You slammed the door You didn't say good-bye

No - I don't want you - I don't need you I tell myself everyday
No - I don't want you - I don't need you I don't love you anyway

I'm drinkin' cheap red wine And stare at your photograph I tear it all apart - and just throw it away

Our love's not more than just a memory Locked inside our hearts
But we both lost the key - baby

Maybe I can take it - maybe I can start again Maybe I can fake it Maybe I can make it through But I don't know