Bonfire

Your feelings - and memories are just like broken glass your tears flow - like rivers and birds have lost their songs no words - to comfort you they taste like cheap champagne don't ever loose your faith in love and you will smile again - 'cause CHORUS Somebody's waiting - for you even if your heart is bleeding Somebody's waiting - for you to give you all you're dreaming of Rain's falling - all over you it's pounding on your wounds sun's hiding - before your eyes it cuts your heart in two some wounds get deeper and deeper and time won't ease your pain just trust in love - sometimes it hurts cause love will never change CHORUS
