You'll Be Alright

Open your eyes - see how it feels colourful moments of truth Deep down inside - covered with lies you'll find somebody to love - and that is you Shattered by storms - intoxicated dreams you've lost your vision of life Easier said - to shake it loose - than it's done for you Shake your head - and say no to things that made you feel so sad CHORUS I know - you'll be alright just dare a new way in your life I know - it'll turn out right and love will cut you like a knife Mystical tours - in occultism's world one way ticket to hell Love or hate - it can be your damnation or your salvation turn your fate - dare a brandnew journey - into shining light CHORUS So you can call me a hypocrite, a liar, an idiot, or a piece of shit No matter what you'll say or do I'll never give up telling you CHORUS I know - you'll be alright just dare a new way in your life I know - God will give you time and love will cut you like a knife
