Nine Years Later

Born Against

Nine years into the future and we're still counting the dead an d the dying Still totaling the countless hidden victims of heightened state terror still Believing of a peace and prosperity of a peace with a hundred t housand Executed by disease of a prosperity with millions living on the streets and I've got to wonder what the fuck it's going to take can it be u ndone can we Stem the tide of violence or are we gonna sit back relax and wa tch tv while The "have nots" get their heads kicked in keep counting the pol icies that Failed and the lies that worked they worked we swallowed them d own deep Swallowed them whole
