

Do my sense deceive me obstructing the wavelengths forward motion is rising to find what is sacred have i entered a new life an extension of my own perception can i retreat from this panic from this tension or welcome the great unknown awaken awaken into greatness not afraid to be in this space

manifest creation

we're home from the other side and now we know the mystery was found, enlightenment we were chosen to show you you were destined to become unnumbered they will try to persuade you and slowly destroy ones integrity they might as well take you to killing fields and throw you away you look back, you risk it all don't stray from enlightenment stray from the darkness come into the light come into the light again now your senses receiving constructing the wavelengths the signals are seeking we know what is sacred we know this is constant aware of the source field alive in this form we venture together in the great unknown stronger than ever arrive at the center of the great unknown
