

We were built with the human condition to expose the pain you create no remorse for the weak and the hopeless this the process of your extraction time to start a vengeance monsters instilled in us all on the brink of eruption the end result of life introducing a parallel existence i want abstraction

we have been given the gift to proceed so come on we try to fill in the blanks your missing you need to open the door to begin
so come on will you be listening in the storm has settled it washed away your fear we listened

they took us captive we held on with out thoughts imprisoned the blood line has ended now your cause sees it effect reaction a little too late for a reaction enough is enough