

Saint Matthew Returns To The Womb

Botch

On the porch two words changed life for me | And I'm not the same | He said son soon your life will change | And I believed in him | And your soul will be free of the pain | In time you'll know that it's true | The hand of god will pick me up | Just pledge your loyalty | So I fall to you | False eyes, forked words, I'm ten | Now that I see you're just a man | Recruiting your followers | And this world is not one by your hand | Questions and contradictions | Feels like I'm following the rabbit 'round the track again | Around around | And you're so sure | Two words | The changes I've endured | I know that it is all shit
