

You And Me

Bowling For Soup

All I needed was an answer I didn't ask for nothin more and she said, "just leave your jacket at the door"
and we were locked inside
again it started here we go

If you can help me let me know.
So she asked if I could stay there and I say we've been through this before and she said, "just tell me, what do you expect here?"
and we were locked inside
again it started here we go
you can hold my hand, but Don't go back on me Just remember that it's gonna be alright and you'll see we can have it all Can't you see that I'm right here waiting, looking back at you YOU and me, we've got nothing to lose. Oh yeah!

So she wraps me up inside her and I knew we should not get that far and she said, "just close your eyes and say you love me" and we were locked inside, again.....

All I need to kill the pain is for someone else to blame and I've waited my whole life I try to run but I can't hide
