

Arrow Flight

Boy & Bear

I've done all my thinking
You got me in a spin
Rolled out and sleeping
I belong here
Basking in the autumn sun.
For this moment's fleeting
But maybe that's okay
It's proof I'm healing.
I'm an anchor,
And I'm weighing on your mind.
Oh, it's true
You met me in the arrow flight
Like a streamer
Bursting in the open night
And I'm feeling
That things are gonna be alright, my friend.
But I wanna go home.
I'm gonna go home.
Count all your pennies
You put em' in a line
Eyes growing heavy
Won't you rest your weary warmth on mine
And now I keep moving
A second at a time
No point in losing you, oh
I'll make you a bed of roses, just make it home tonight.
And it's true,
You met me in the arrow flight
Like a streamer
Bursting through the open night
And I'm feeling
That things are gonna be alright, my friend
Just wanna go home.
And all my reasons
They move but you always remain there
Out of love
Out of love
And all my reasons
They move but you always remain, dear
Out of love
Out of love
